LET'S DECIDE, GOVERNOR

It is Gov. Davey's duty to recommend a tax program to the general assembly. Asked for a recommendation, he has passed the buck to the state tax commission, saying the commission will provide information the assembly needs.

Although it has been in session three months, the assembly has done nothing. Gov. Davey, himself, though he has been active, seems to have skirted the most vital problem of his administration, the provision of revenue.

There is, to be sure, no magic formula for cleaning up the financial mess that has accumulated. Gov. Davey will not be able to make everything all right by pretending to pull rabbits out of a hat. There are, nevertheless, certain things he can do.

He can, for instance, take an unequivocal position on the sales tax. This tax was presented to him by the preceding administration. He should be grateful for it. If to his other troubles were to be added now the bitterness of a sales tax fight, he would be an harassed politician indeed.

The sales tax was made acceptable to Ohio by its emergency nature. There was general agreement that it would be tolerated for a year pending enactment of other taxes. It was the solution to a difficult problem of financing.

Yet, before the sales tax is six months old, talk of amending it in order to provide wide exemptions immediately is being indulged in freely. The effect of amendment, of course, would be to decrease the revenue from the tax.

It is understandable why politicians like to talk about reducing taxes. It is not understandable in this case why Gov. Davey should let himself occupy an equivocal position. He is the logical defender of the sales tax as it was intended to operate—an emergency measure. There is no sense in amending it when it must be devised after a year's operation. Gov. Davey, who has nothing to offer, apparently, in the way of new taxes, would better be defending the sales tax for his own sake, lest those who would like to tinker with it embarrass him by doing serious damage to its capacity for producing revenue.

TO KEEP OUT OF WAR

Probing congressmen and expert witnesses are draining through endless hours of testimony on the best ways to mobilize the United States for another war. Do they realize how close they are coming to a plan which would make peace eternal, if it were to be adopted and observed?

They are talking of a plan to make the United States pay as it fights. There will be no war loans. Neither will there be any war profits. The government would take 50 per cent of the first 6 per cent profits of corporations and over that it would take everything. Individual incomes would be limited to $10,000.

Income taxes would be imposed on every citizen making $1,000 and more. They would be collected quarterly, and immediately on the declaration of war the amounts of salaries would be made public information, citizens would forego their private rights in many ways. Officers of private corporations, for instance, would be drafted for military service if they were needed.

All essential industries and services would be commandeered by government. Commodity exchanges would be closed, and there would be no speculation. Prices would be fixed and industries licensed. It seems impossible, but such things actually are being considered to promote this nation's war efficiency.

Is it any wonder Bernard M. Baruch remarked tactfully in one of the hearings of the senate munitions committee, "There is such a thing as taking the profits out of war at the cost of losing the war by going too far." Perhaps he meant "There is such a thing as making war so unattractive that the country wouldn't think of getting into one."

THE STARS SAY

For Tuesday, April 2

A day of surprising and quite unforeseen good fortune is predicted from the governing planetary influences. There should be a definite increase of financial accumulations, either in speculative enterprises, or in investments.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of splendid good fortune with the finances increasing either through speculation, gaming or investment. An element of surprise seems to envelop such denouements. An enhanced state of popularity and prestige, with preferment from those in high places may be looked for.

A child born on this day may be efficient, versatile, ambitious and aspiring for good social and business position, which will make a happy and successful life for itself.

Notable nativity: Rachmaninoff, composer.

O. O. MCINTYRE
NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, April 1—Diary: Aboled late, the morning missing, and to breakfast with Bob Brinkerhoff back from a safari to see the Hapi Indians in New Mexico and bull fighting in Juarez. And home to find a vintner's rare blend Oubert White sent from Provence and a gay letter from Mark Kelly, the sports gazetteer.

So fashioning my essay, packing 200 books to send to Ohio and with my wife for a saunter up the avenue. And saw John Charles Thomas, spruce in double-breasted stripes, in one block and hatless Prof. Einstein in another. Also Earl Carroll. And I put up for two frozen cream drinks at the St. Moritz.

Dinner at the Volain and as beautiful a young girl as ever I saw, not more than 19, at the next table with no awareness of her freshness and charm. But everybody flutters about John Barrymore across the room. So to Steve and Buff Cobb Brody's spread for Claudette Colbert of the cinemas.

Among the vanished sanities filtering back into an upset world is the abolishment of the cut-in dances at junior events, especially the college prom and Baltimore tea dances. They are now becoming strictly program affairs with the graceful wait in acendency. In many instances the cut-in resulted in brawls.

George Jessel, to relieve the tedium of a movie house tour that keeps him in his dressing room much of the day and night for his five appearances, is dashing off his memoirs. They will reveal a vivid stage life that began at the age of 8 when he was a Grand Street boy and includes intimacies with celebrities from the Crown Prince to Max Baer. It will be titled: "Twenty Five Cents 'till Two O'clock"—the affiche so usual in front of the picture theaters.

Personal nomination for the most don't carish of the radio performers—Ramona of the Whiteman crew.

Ramona, incidentally, has been the collegiate choice for several seasons. When the lads are down from New Haven or over from Princeton whooping it up they always try to round in for a broadcast. Ramona is a tall, thin, brunette, not beautiful but interesting looking in a sort of gawky Zasu Pitta way. She cares little about the boys but instead is a determined careerist. No one sings songs so effortlessly, so casually. But she is a marvelous pianist and can put over a song as few in her time.

I belong to the Nora Bayes school of song delivery. My musical tastes have advanced little beyond the popular song and to my notion no one topped Miss Bayes. Her greatest peak was reached in vaudeville with her then husband, Jack Norworth, during the era they were exploiting his melody, "Shine on Harvest Moon." I remember a night at Proctor's Fifth Avenue, which was quaintly enough on Broadway, they received 15 encores. They were gracious but exhausted and Miss Bayes almost whispered: "We love you but cannot sing another note." So the audience flashed to its feet and cheered. Never have I seen such demonstration in the theater. Next day they were married.

Hammerstein's barny old Victoria was the most eagerly sought coliseum for launching the newest Tin Pan Alley tintinnabulation. To have a song first sung there was considered a sweet break for the composer. For song pluggers it was paradise. The song putter-overs included Elizabeth Brice, Sally Fisher, Lois Josephine, Mabel Hill, Grace Larue, Stella Mayhew, Artie Melhinger, Ernest Ball, Eddie Leonard, the Courtney sisters, Van and Schenck and Flo Adler. When one of these yodeled your tune, it was made.

Bagatelles: Zieffeld's valet Sidney is now valeting William Anthony MacGuire in Hollywood. . . . Milt Gross was once an office boy for Tad. . . . Elsa Maxwell, who never took a lesson, says she can play any instrument. . . . Cobina Wright recently sang her songs creditably on the radio with a fever of 102. . . . Philip Wyle thinks the horse is the ugliest and dumbest of animals. . . . Broadway columnist Ed Sullivan is signed for a $3,000 a week moviehouse tour.

Trick of fate note: Marie Dressler was planning to invest her last $2,200 in a pension for Americans in Paris when someone persuaded her to try Hollywood again.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

Dyspnea Is Warning of Nature
SHORTNESS OF breath or "dyspnea," is one of nature's warnings that something is wrong within the body. It is a sign which should not be ignored.

Many a person with this symptom is fully aware he has an abnormal condition yet fails to consult a physician. Another becomes unnecessarily alarmed and is sure he has heart disease. Dyspnea may be the result of some minor disorder that is readily overcome by care and medication.

Dr. Copeland

Shortness of breath is often an indication of some disturbance in the mechanism of the heart, the lungs, or the blood vessels. It may be no more than a temporary disturbance.

Emotional Upset
It is often associated with severe mental strain, worry, anger, fear or some emotional upset. This type of dyspnea was frequently encountered among the soldiers during the World War. There was vague discomfort or real pain and the trouble was called "soldier's heart." The condition was due to the severe strain of trench life and disappeared on return to peaceful surroundings.

The symptoms may be due to some obstruction in the breathing apparatus for example when there are enlarged adenoids. It is a common complaint in nasal obstruction from a deviated septum, thickening of the tissues within the nose, or nasal polyps.

Difficulty in breathing may follow the slight exertion of walking, climbing stairs or lifting objects. When associated with swelling of the ankles and discomfort around the heart it is not acting as it should.

Severe Type
Sometimes there is difficulty in breathing while lying down. In order to get any sleep it is necessary to have two or three pillows propped behind the back. This severe type of dyspnea is known as "orthopnea," and is usually a sign of real heart disease.

If you complain of shortness of breath or difficulty in breathing upon the slightest exertion, I would advise you to see a doctor. Do not assume the symptom is due to overweight, sedentary habits or advancing age. Let your doctor decide whether it is due to a minor disturbance, or whether it is important enough to demand medical care.

Answers to Health Queries

Mrs. R. R. Q.—What is the cause of acne? My son, who is apparently well and healthy in all other respects, is greatly troubled with acne on his face.

A.—Skin disturbances are usually due to some fault in the diet or elimination. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Subscriber Q.—Will you please tell me if an inward gouter in an eight-year-old child can be dissolved or if an operation is necessary?

A.—It would be impossible to advise you without a personal examination of the child. Take the child to a reliable physician and have an examination made.

SUCCESS MARKS LIQUOR VENTURE

State Monopoly Nearing Anniversary of First Birthday

The present markup on state store liquors is 30 per cent. This would be cut to 20 per cent under the new bill, which would give the consumer a substantial reduction in prices.

The proposed law would slash the beer tax in half, from $1.50 to 75 cents a barrel, and sponsors say that increased consumption would fulfill the stated purpose of the Ohio liquor law which is to encourage the drinking of beer and wine in preference to hard liquor.

The same question has been a subject of much study by lawmakers and the liquor control board.

The department has found that it can not handle wines satisfactorily, either from the financial or service standpoint. Sale of wines has been slow in the stores, partly because they can not be kept at the proper temperatures without special equipment.

Giving Up Wine Trade

Now the department is seeking to get out of the wine trade and turn it over to private business. Grape growers have conferred with the liquor board and have been promised assistance in stimulating their business, which was almost ruined by prohibition. Competition from other states is the greatest problem of the Ohio grape growers, they say.

The bill now before the legislature would raise the wine alcohol percentage limit from 17 to 21 per cent and would widen the industry's field.

One of the greatest problems of the liquor monopoly is enforcement of laws.

Governor Davey recently had Director Clarence H. Burk exempt the enforcement chief's position from civil service so that he could oust E. G. Mathews, head of the enforcement division since the department was founded a year ago.

For months the stocky Mathews had been saying that it was a physical impossibility to enforce the liquor laws with the 80 inspectors allowed him by law.

He pointed out that the inspectors had to visit all places applying for permits in addition to seeking out law violators. Then they had to spend much of their time testifying in cases which they had brought before the director for revocation proceedings.

Humphrey Recalled

Suddenly the governor charged that two-thirds of the liquor sold in Ohio was bootleg and he forced Mathews out. Alfred Humphrey of Ashland, who twice had been dismissed by Mathews as an inspector, was named to take his former chief's place.

Enforcement is one of the points covered in the new liquor bill. Under it the director would be empowered to withhold from municipalities their share of permit fees when he considers that those municipalities are not cooperating with the department in enforcing the law.

In the past there has been considerable difficulty in obtaining cooperation of local officials in some places, liquor department officials have said. They think that the proposed law would give them an effective weapon against lukewarm local officials.

One point on which Carl Babcock of Cleveland, technical advisor in liquor purchases, and others in the department have spent much time is that of obtaining a rapid turnover in store stocks.

Matt Hinkel of Cleveland, who supervised buying of the original stocks, faced a tremendous problem a year ago, having to select brands which he hoped would appeal to Ohio purchasers.

Within a few months he found that some brands sold rapidly and others lay on the shelves. He began a weeding-out process by which the slow-moving brands were replaced by quick-sellers.

Babcock carried on the work after he succeeded Hinkel and the department has been able to persuade distillers to take back some brands which would not sell. Consequently the turnover has been speeded and the inventory investment has been reduced.

Over 15,000,000 bottles of liquor went across counters of state stores last year at an average of a dollar apiece, during the year now ending. They cost an average of a dollar apiece.

COUGHLIN, LONG HINT 3RD PARTY

Priest and Senator Intensify Organization Drives

"Low down politics," he said, "were used in opening the banks."

Quoting the Bible, the Declaration of Independence, Theodore Roosevelt and others to reinforce his plea for share-the-wealth, Long also took another fling at NRA, which he called a "blue bazzard" given the country by "a Prince Charming administration."

Coughlin Strikes Back

DETROIT, April 1.—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin struck back Sunday at critics who he branded as "bigots" who have "trumped up the charge that we are bleeding the poor."

While Gen. Hugh Johnson, former chief of the NRA was mentioned only once during the course of the priest's weekly discourse, the stirring phrases of the money problem, were widely interpreted as a reply to charges made by Johnson on Father Coughlin in a speech at Chicago Saturday night.

In that speech the fiery general charged that Father Coughlin took "from the pennies of the poor much money never accurately accounted for" to support his National Union for Social Justice.

"Throughout the ages every bigot who has hated the church and the principles of social justice advocated by the church," the priest retorted, "has trumped up the charge that we are bleeding the money from the poor."

"That was the charge made by Stalin, that is the recent charge which has assaulted the ears and intelligence of the American public by those who have out-Stalined Stalin."

"May I ask x x x where they get their blood money? x x x They get their money from the crimson hands of Wall street, crimsoned by the blood of industrial martyrs."

"Mudder" Is Two Strokes Ahead in $2,000 Metropolitan Match

(By Associated Press)
ATLANTA, April 1.—Lighthouse Harry Cooper of Chicago, the best "mudder" in the bunch, held a two-stroke advantage over the field today in the $2,000 Metropolitan open golf tournament with 18 holes left to play.

Cooper's card showed a 36-hole total of 142, made up by a brilliant 69 Saturday and a 73 Sunday. That 73 was scored in spite of a virtual cloudburst which left water standing on the greens and put a dampener on the tournament.

The remaining 18 holes of the 54-hole Metropolitan event were scheduled for 1 o'clock (Central Standard time) this afternoon. After today's play the touring professionals move to Augusta, Ga., where the first round of the Augusta national tournament starts Thursday.

in the Buckeye Conference Press Box

Two Buckeye conference colleges may challenge Miami university's aspirations to retain the circuit's track title this spring.

The Redskins were winners a year ago, with Ohio university close behind. Ohio Wesleyan was third, with Marshall fourth and Cincinnati last.

The two most likely to cope with Miami are Ohio and Ohio Wesleyan, which from all indications have added to their strength this year. Due to ineptitude, Cincinnati is not rated highly, while Marshall does not have a sufficiently large schedule of track meets to prepare the herd for the annual conference classic which this year will be held by Ohio university at Athens on May 24 and 25.

Ohio and Ohio Wesleyan will test their power in a dual meet at Delaware Saturday April 13. If either can win the meet decisively, the victor will be considered as Miami's chief obstacle toward another Buckeye title.

Len Fertig, former Miami football and baseball star, and for the past year an assistant freshman coach at Miami, has signed a contract with the Charlotte, N. C. baseball club for the coming season. He was an all-Ohio and all-Buckeye fullback in football and a fine outfielder and catcher in the diamond sport.

The real name of Russ Cohen, Cincinnati's new head coach, is Henry Russell Cohen, but when he enlisted during the war his name was listed by the quartermaster as Harry. So he dropped the first name and used the middle one. He has a three-year contract at Cincinnati.

Irondale Team Captures Class B Tournament By Beating Salem Quintet

Salem Brown Heaters Lose To Visitors In Overtime Duel, 33-31

Minerva Texacos Take Consolation Game From Winona I. G. A.'s, 42 to 34; Two All-Tourney Teams Are Selected

Irondale's Wandering Eight which wandered in here late last week to participate in the Class B basketball tournament in the Memorial buildings, returned home Saturday night with the championship in their possession after shading the Brown Heaters and Supply tossers 33 to 31 in an overtime period—the finale to an exciting game.

The Texacos of Minerva, another strong quintet in the tourney, captured the consolation honors by defeating the Winona I. G. A.'s, 42 to 34, Saturday night.

Irondale and the Brown Heaters of Salem battled hard in the championship duel and at the half, Irondale was leading 15-14. They still led by a one-point margin at the end of the third quarter, 25-24. The score was knotted 31-31 at the end of the game.

Romicke and Sprende tossed best offensively for Irondale, bagging 14 and 10 points respectively. Alaback, Wiggers and Julian looked best for Salem.

Minerva had little trouble in defeating Winona, 42-34, for consolation honors. The Texaco team jumped off to a 15-6 lead at the start and was leading the way, 25 to 15 at intermission. Returning, the Minervans forged ahead to hold a 32 to 21 advantage at the start of the final period.

Grimes went hot for the winners as he dumped in 12 baskets besides one charity toss. Ward was best for Winona with 11 points.

Gold basketballs were awarded members of the Irondale squad while the Salem lads received silver ones. Minerva was awarded the consolation trophy.

Sprende, Irondale center, was voted as the most valuable player to his team.

A all-tourney team was selected to include Sprende, and Ray, both of Irondale, at the forwards; Grimes of Minerva, center, and Alaback and Wiggers of the Salem Brown Heaters, guards.

A second team placed Bennett of Winona and Romicke of Irondale at forwards; Shaw of Minerva, center; Julian of Salem Brown's and Porter of Irondale at the guards.

With The Teams In Their Southern Quarters

(By Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, La., April 1.—The Esplanade Union says Max Baer, world's heavyweight champion, will marry Mary Kirk Brown, Broadway socialite, sometime this summer or just as soon as Miss Brown's husband, Bobby Martin, of New York and Florida, obtains his divorce.

The paper says Baer gave out the story before he left here for Chicago, Thursday, and asked it not be released until his arrival in Chicago. Baer said he was going to New York "to court the sweetest girl in the world" and didn't care who knows it now, the Union says.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—This jack-of-all-trades business seems to have done Myrl Hoag of the New York Yankees very little good.

Hoag, an outfielder by trade, took a whirl at third base in addition to his regular fly-chasing job this spring but it looks now like he won't be able to force his way into either spot. He may not even be carried for utility duty.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—The Pirates took a day (41 today, the second since training games started. The San Antonio stadium was unavailable for the scheduled game between the Bucs and Chicago White Sox.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—With a record of 11 victories in 14 exhibition games, the St. Louis Browns were on their way north today.

LAKELAND, Fla.—The performance of a pair of left handers, Carl Fischer and Elton Hoesett, who held the Red Sox to six hits yesterday, although beaten 2 to 1, gave the pennant hopes of the Detroit Tigers a new spurt today. Detroit plays Montreal this afternoon.

Cage Coaches Will Discuss Rules Changes At Meeting

Tip-Off Problem Again Heads List of 15 Basketball Proposals; Chicago Scene of Convention

Fifteen major proposals for changing basketball rules, with the perennial tip-off problem again heading the list, will be discussed at the annual convention of the National Association of Basketball Coaches in Chicago April 3-5.

The proposals were offered in a nationwide survey conducted by A. A. Schabinger, Crichton university, chairman of the national rules committee.

Tip-off Argument
The tip-off argument this year, answers to Schabinger's questionnaire indicated, will center around three possibilities:

1.—The elimination of the rule entirely and substitution of another method of putting the ball in play.

2.—Establishment of a restraining zone around the tip-off circle in which other players may not enter until the ball has been tapped by the centers.

3.—Rotation of all players on the team in the tip-off position.

The post or pivot play will come in for heavy discussion, with some coaches favoring its elimination. Radical revision of the "held ball" rule will be discussed, with a view to establishing three circles, each with a six-foot radius. All "held balls" would be put into play by a tip-off in the nearest circle.

Other proposed changes included enlarging, elevating the goals and changing the distance of the goal from the end line; regulating thickness of the backstop, painting a line around the court three feet inside the out-of-bounds lines behind which opposing players must stay on out-of-bounds plays; revision of the rules on "traveling"; penalizing refusal to take the penalty when fouled; changing the length of intermission, time out, and time allowed for substitutions; when a foul is committed in the back court, the ball to be given the opponents out of bounds; allowing three points for field goals made 20 feet out in the court, better interpretation of the "blocking" rule with no difference.

Indians, Giants Head Northward

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—The Cleveland Indians started their northward trip today, leaving this city for McComb, Miss. to play another exhibition game with the New York Giants.

Bill Knickerbocker, shortstop, who underwent an appendix operation two weeks ago, was left behind to recover his strength. The Indians and Giants were rained out yesterday.

CLEVELAND—Joseph Krichmar, Chardon, Ohio, farmer, upon whom Dr. Claude S. Beck, Lakeside hospital surgeon, performed the first recorded operation for angina pectoris direct on the heart, today was apparently still on the way to recovery, five weeks after the delicate surgery.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 1.—This would be a great day to pull the prediction that the Philadelphia Athletics will win the American league pennant, then leave town, just as the A's are doing themselves. Unfortunately the joker in the calendar would be detected quickly.

The extra "x" in Jimmie Foxx name marks the spot he is on this spring. Doing the backstopping for the venerable Connie Mack's youthful aggregation and running the risk of checking abruptly the career of one of the greatest batters in the American league. After a month behind the bat during the season of the year when pitchers, especially young pitchers, are at their wildest, Foxx is unscathed and has nothing more than a mild backache to complain about. The truth is that Jimmie, despite some nagging, likes his new job because "there's a future in it."

Tough Job
"It's a tougher job for me behind the plate," he says, "but I'm satisfied now I can really help the club, also that we are going somewhere. Nobody is picking the A's to startle the league but I'm telling you we have a real club. We have power, speed and I'm sure we are going to get greatly improved pitching."

"Suppose catching does chop 10 or 15 points off my batting average. That doesn't mean I won't continue to get plenty of hits and drive in a fair share of runs. Barring accidents, I expect to be behind the bat right along, taking my rest where I can get it."

Foxx would have to play all but two of the regularly scheduled games to break the backstopping record. Ray Schalk of the Chicago White Sox set the major league mark when he worked in 151 games in 1920. Pat for best backstops is around 125 games.

St. Louis Cardinals Picked In National League Pennant Poll

Prognosticators Name Baseball Champions to Repeat Again This Year; New York Giants Make It a Two-Team Affair

By BOB CAVAGNARO, Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, April 1.—The World Champion St. Louis Cardinals stand out today as the choice of Major league baseball experts to retain the National league pennant.

Of the 77 sports editors and baseball writers who participated in the ninth annual Associated Press pennant poll, 39 picked the Cardinals to repeat.

The general belief that the 1935 race will be strictly a two-team affair was adequately reflected in the poll for Bill Terry's New York Giants received 31 of the remaining 38 first-place ballots. The only other clubs likely to figure in the pennant race, as the experts see it, are the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates. Four writers cast their first-place ballots for the Cubs and three for the Pirates.

Not only did the Cardinals and Giants together receive 70 of the 77 first-place ballots but they likewise monopolized the second-place vote, the Cardinals getting 33 of them and the Giants 31. Again Chicago, with six, and Pittsburgh with seven, were the only other clubs to figure in the balloting.

A year ago only 13 first-place ballots went to the Cardinals, who were picked to finish fourth.

Foxx Pleased With New Job

Jimmie Doing Backstopping for Youthful Athletics

BY ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor
Atlanta, Ga., April 1.—This would be a great day to pull the prediction that the Philadelphia Athletics will win the American league pennant, then leave town, just as the A's are doing themselves. Unfortunately the joker in the calendar would be detected quickly.

The extra "x" in Jimmie Foxx name marks the spot he is on this spring. The truth is that Jimmie, despite some nagging, likes his new job because "there's a future in it."

Tough Job
"It's a tougher job for me behind the plate," he says, "but I'm satisfied now I can really help the club, also that we are going somewhere. Nobody is picking the A's to startle the league but I'm telling you we have a real club. We have power, speed and I'm sure we are going to get greatly improved pitching."

Cincinnati Reds To Play Dodgers

ORLANDO, Fla., April 1.—Bidding goodbye to Tampa, after losing 8 to 3 to the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, the Cincinnati Reds were primed for the Brooklyn Dodgers, here today in the first of a series of games to mark their return home.

The Reds broke camp late yesterday, making the trip to nearby Winter Haven, by bus. Thursday they go to St. Augustine to board the train north.

Don Brennan is slated to start the game against Casey Stengel's men today. Yesterday St. Johnson lasted seven innings, allowing only one hit and one man to reach first, in five of them. Taking over in the eighth, however, Danny MacFayden was pounded for three tallies in the ninth.

Errors by Pepper Martin and Leo Durocher allowed all three of the Reds runs.

Oklahoma Students Want Captain Jones

NORMAN, Okla., April 1.—Student leaders of the University of Oklahoma today prepared "We Want You, Bill" messages to be sent directly to Capt. Lawrence M. Jones of Louisiana State university, whom they seek for the Oklahoma football coaching job.

The messages, to be sent also to the war department in Washington were designed to counteract "protests" against Jones sent to Washington by other students.

Revamped Mid-Atlantic League to Open Season on May 8

(By Associated Press)
AKRON, April 1.—The revamped Mid-Atlantic Baseball league will open its season May 8, with Dayton playing at Zanesville, Huntington at Portsmouth, Akron at Charleston and Johnstown at Beckley.

Complete schedules were ratified at a meeting of team representatives here yesterday, but the full schedules were not announced.

Dayton, Huntington, Akron and Johnstown will open their season May 14.

Three of the teams will be managed by catchers: Earl Wogamon directing Zanesville; Ralph McAdams, Beckley, and Frank Urmann, Charleston, W. Va.

Akron will be managed by John Nunn, a first baseman, Riley Parker will handle Dayton, and Joe O'Rourke will direct Johnstown. Huntington has no manager yet.

Capt. Eden Will Find Poland Opposed To Eastern Peace Pact

WARSAW, Poland, April 1. — Firm opposition to any attempt to link Poland into the proposed eastern security pact seemed certain today to confront Captain Anthony Eden when he arrives here tonight for his discussions with Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, the Polish dictator.

Hostility to the projected eastern pact, which Russia favors and Germany opposes, is frequently voiced in semi-official circles on the grounds it might possibly result in Poland becoming a battlefield for the other powers.

Referring to Captain Eden's impending visit the official Gazeta Polska said "Eden, who has seen opposite viewpoints regarding the eastern pact in Berlin and Moscow, will be able to understand better the situation and the policy of a country located between two large countries having such divergent problems and attitudes."

File Returns Today Without Penalties

LISBON, April 1.—Personal tax returns were being filed today at the office of County Auditor John H. Irwin without penalties being added. The personal tax office here was crowded all day Saturday until the closing hour. Mail returns have been heavy, but these will not be checked against the 1934 records until later this week, or as soon as the records of the last minute rush have been reviewed.

Over 6,500 returns were filed in this county last year and it was indicated today the returns so far filed are about 3,000 under the 1934 record. Many new returns expected to be filed here this week.

Astaire, Dunne, Rogers Star In "Roberta," Now Playing At State

ONE of the most completely entertaining films seen here in a long time is "Roberta," now playing at the State. The screen version of the famous musical romance is replete with grand musical scores, beautiful costumes, delightful songs, a good plot and the dancing of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers.

Kern Songs
The singing and dancing numbers rank among the best the screen has ever shown. Lovely Irene Dunne has never photographed so beautifully and her splendid voice is heard to advantage in the tunes of Jerome Kern. Most of the Kern melodies of the stage success are retained, including "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" (sung by Miss Dunne) along with two new ones he wrote for the screen play. The new ones are "Lovely To Look At" and "I Won't Dance."

Then there is the brilliant fashion parade in the lavish "Roberta" shop. The striking new creations are modeled by lovely models and the scene is one of the most colorful of the entire picture.

WALK ON LEFT, HIKERS WARNED

Spring Traffic Hazards Are Cited by Motor Club Manager

Spring is here, bringing the season for hiking parties, picnics, tramps through the woods and other outdoor events. And the season brings a warning from Albert P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Motor club. To motorists, Morris points out the additional traffic hazards, the many more pedestrians who will be found jogging along the highways.

For the hikers, Morris has the suggestion that they walk to the left, facing traffic, at all times when on a busy thoroughfare.

"With an eye to safety for pedestrians, as well as motorists, additional states have legislation making it unlawful to walk on any but the left side of the highway facing oncoming vehicular traffic. One state, South Carolina, has a statute requiring pedestrians to walk on the right side of the road, but this was evidently cracked during the horse and buggy days. The State of Delaware is included in the above-mentioned sixteen, and in addition requires the carrying of a light at night."

"Five states have gone so far as to levy a fine for the breaking of this law and range as follows: Arkansas $5 to $100 fine, 60 days or both; California up to $500 fine, 6 months or both; North Carolina $10; Virginia $2 to $25, and Wisconsin $10 for first offense, and $25 for second offense."

"Although automobile-pedestrian collision accidents, accounted for only about 37% of the accidents on streets and highways of the country, the deaths from these mishaps comprise nearly one-half of all fatalities. Walking on rural highways is one of the most hazardous forms of pedestrianism, yearly 10,000 accidents resulting from this account."

They had attended a movie in Bellaire.
